

Then God said, "I give you every seed-bearing plant on the face of the whole earth and every tree that has fruit with seed in it. They will be yours for food." Genesis 1:29

"Can't" was a word that was not part of the Ellison vocabulary. Our three children have lived that way and believe me, all of us have been tested to the max. I am proud of our family, millions of people have been helped through their creative minds and energy.

The reason I brought this subject up is because I am alarmed at what is happening to the family unit in America. It used to be that families were the strength of America. In our fifty-four years of ministry we have had a variety of ministries. We pastored three churches, had three radio stations in the U.S., and always loved to see families participate in every aspect of church and family life. The sad part is many of these same families are splintered and broken, vows are forgotten.

It's okay now -- because there is an unwritten agreement, that we no longer preach anything that would offend -- keeping a peaceful environment is the priority. It doesn't seem possible that a nation that fought so hard in the beginning to honor God could become so passive and lifeless to resist the invasion of the anti-Christ spirit in our country. At last, I have to use the word "can't"! I cannot believe what is happening in America -- we are losing our way -- Jesus said things would happen in the last days that would deceive, if possible, the very elect.

Family has always been the strength of Help Ministries. I don't know what I would have accomplished without a great family. As I write, I have a voice inside of me that keeps reminding me of my extended family -- reminding me of my Heavenly Father. I feel like shouting, "What would I do without the help of my God and the help of my friends . . . who are family and partners in the ministry?"
